

That's Not OK

Poster Activity

Experiences and Outcomes: HWB 2-45b, HWB 2-49a

To begin...

These resources are based on our That's Not OK information for young people on Gender-Based Violence, healthy relationships and consent.

That's Not OK is Young Scot's campaign against Gender-Based Violence, in partnership with the Scottish Government, which has been running for the last two years. Young Scot have worked with partner organisations including Rape Crisis Scotland and Scottish Women's Aid to create an information resource for young people in Scotland on this topic, via our website and social media channels.

Find out more at young.scot/thatsnotok

Instructions

- ✓ Allow learners to explore our digital information and take notes on the key themes and issues.
- ✓ Ask learners to create an information poster on Gender-Based Violence or Relationships.
- ✓ Here are some links to topics they could create a poster around:
 - How to Be a Good Ally to Women
 - How to Support a Friend
 - What Does a Healthy Relationship Look Like?

Share your work!

Take a picture of your learner's posters and post them using your schools social media channels.

Don't forget to tag us @youngscot

You could also display them in your school to inform others about these important issues.

That's Not OK

- Task 1: Research Gender-Based Violence on young.scot/thatsnotok
- Task 2: Create an information poster to explain Gender-Based Violence or Relationships to others.

Use the example below to help you get started.

That's Not OK

Rewards!

If you have a free Young Scot Membership, you've earned 100 Rewards Points for taking part in the Make Time Homework Grid!

Use this code 9QXT986D to redeem your points.

Not a Member yet?

Sign up at young.scot/membership to access online Discounts and exclusive Rewards and opportunities!